

ATHLETIC MEET WILL BE REAL IRISH REVIVAL

Proceeds of Industrial Sports
Will Help Pay Loughlenn School Debt.

An athletic meeting of unusual interest will take place at Celtic Park on next Sunday, Oct. 22, beginning at 1 o'clock. It is called on the official programme "The Irish Industrial Sports," the explanation of the word industrial being that the proceeds are to help in paying the debt upon the new school of industries at Loughlenn, County Roscommon, Ireland.

It has been the aim of Father Michael O'Flanagan, who is the chief organizer of the meeting, to make it a gathering that will typify in every way the spirit of the Irish Revival. A hurling competition between the Brian Boru, Garryowen and Meagher teams, and a Gaelic football competition between the teams of Kerry, Cork, Sligo and Louth, will be amongst the principal attractions of the meeting. The prizes will be very appropriate, consisting of sets of wooden jerseys woven in Dublin, and purchased there by Father O'Flanagan during his recent visit to Ireland.

The prizes for the athletic events are gold and silver medals ornamented with ancient Celtic designs and made by Messrs Hopkins & Hopkins, of Dublin.

Kelly, the champion dancer of Ireland, who is now engaged on a tour through the States, will give an open-air exhibition of Irish dancing. It will be a good opportunity, therefore, of seeing this interesting style of dance exhibited at the highest point of excellence that it has yet reached in Ireland.

The music for the day will be supplied by the band of the Catholic Property of New York.

The work of the school which is of benefit by the meeting, has been made familiar to many New Yorkers at the recent Irish Fair in Madison Square Garden. When it is considered that the Loughlenn school made such a creditable display for less than a year and a half, and that they got only three weeks' notice to prepare for their appearance at the Garden, it is clear that whatever assistance they get will be put to the best account.

A visit to the scene of their operations, however, in one of the poorest districts in Ireland would be necessary to appreciate to the full what they have been doing there. For the principal part of their work lies not in the beautiful rugs and lace that they have displayed here, but in the improvements they have brought about in the methods of kitchen gardening, cooking and general household management among the peasantry of the district where they live.

MR. WITTE NOW "HIS HIGHNESS"

Lawyer Samuel Feldman, of No. 61 East One Hundred and Second street, who escorted the Russian Plenipotentiary, Count Witte, through the Tombs and Criminal Courts Building and acted as his interpreter during part of the distinguished Russian's visit to New York, received to-day an autograph photograph and the following letter from Mr. Witte's secretary:

"My Dear Mr. Feldman—I have the honor to send you by order of his Highness, State Secretary and Count Witte, his photograph and autograph. Please accept this as a token of his Highness's appreciation of the many kindnesses you extended to his Highness while he was in the United States. His Highness wishes to be remembered to your wife. Do not delay in acknowledging the receipt of this to his Highness. He is anxious to hear from you. A. KOROSTOVITZ, 'Secretary'."

SHOW OF WINE AND SPIRITS IN THE BIG GARDEN

First Annual Exhibition Begins
as Liquor League Opens
Its Session.

The first annual Wine and Spirit Show opened to-day at the Madison Square Garden, and at the same time the two bodies which are running the show—the National Liquor League of the United States and the American Bottlers' Protective Association—opened their annual convention in the concert hall.

There were 1,000 of the bottlers and 500 of the members of the League in the concert hall when the convention opened. A speech was made by Corporation Counsel Delaney, welcoming the candidates to New York. Speeches were also made by J. J. Fitzgerald, the attorney for the liquor dealers, and President George H. Hugo, of the Liquor League.

After the convention had adjourned until to-morrow the delegates boarded the steamer Favorite at the foot of East Twenty-third street and went to Conoy Island where they will have a banquet to-night.

The convention will end to-morrow, but the show in the Garden will go on until Oct. 25.

Women's Autumn Coats—Infinite Variety and Unmatchable Values.

It is not surprising that our business is almost as much again as any other store in Brooklyn in these outer garments for women, as the values we are now offering are really unusual even for us. The showing in very moderate priced garments is particularly broad.

And all these garments are made to give absolute satisfaction, to wear as well as look well. The styles, materials and workmanship are of a better grade than even we showed last season. We would call special attention for to-morrow to a group priced very much under regular.

At $9.75—Women's Tan Covert Coats—value $12.50. This value merely conveys a conservative idea of the price charged in other stores for similar coats, but gives no idea of the grace, nattiness and general good style in this garment. Three-quarter length, trimmed with straps of material, velvet and buttons. Three styles—full box back with strap, Empire effect and semi-fitting. Long, loose and roomy, and just right for wear now and later. Sizes 32 to 40.

Second Floor, Front, Central Building.

Nova—A Real French Kid Glove at 95c.

Made in Grenoble, France, and sold in most stores at $1.50. It is better value than the best Glove bargained anywhere. It stands unmatched at 95c. a pair.

Main Floor, Centre, Central Building.

$10 Taffeta Silk Lingerie Waists at $7.50.

In light blue, pink and white, and very dressy. Elaborately trimmed with Baby Irish and Honiton insertion. Elbow sleeves trimmed with lace. Soft collar of lace attached; buttoned in back.

$6 Lace Waists at $4.50.

Buttoned in back, silk lined, made of allover Oriental, with trimming of narrow Valenciennes lace; the front, back and sleeves most elaborately trimmed; lace collar attached; white only.

Second Floor, Centre, Central Building.

THE STAR
NEW YORK
J. Lauchheimer & Co.
86th STREET AND 3rd AVE. COLUMBUS AVE. NEAR 82nd ST.

CORSETS that are perfectly all right and were regularly $1.50 to $3.00 have been marked 79c.

For no other reason than to adjust stocks and hurry a number.

All sizes at either store to-day and to-morrow.

J.B.
The Corset of To-Day.

Recognized and welcomed as the correct and indispensable foundation for the costumes of to-day. Following the exact lines of living models, it is exquisitely moulded, combining all the requisites of grace, comfort and durability.

The New Fall Models, now on exhibition at all the leading stores, are the shapeliest and most graceful Corsets yet made, and their shapeliness is of a character that endures through constant wear. Made in such a wide variety of styles and sizes that, no matter what your figure, there is a J. B. Corset that will fit it exactly and comfortably. Prices from $1 up.

Women's Rain Coats, $5.95

Not a $5.95 Rain Coat, but one made to sell at double that amount. This is the same kind of coat that many specialty stores advertise to sell at $10.00, worth $15.00. We secured the last lot from the manufacturer, and shrewd dickerer made the price a low one.

You'll find the style the most becoming of the season: made of handsome Oxford, green and tan mixtures. It is very light in weight, but the fabric has been subjected to the very best of waterproofing processes, so that it sheds water perfectly. The model is the newest tuck back effect, with buckles and half belt; new tucked sleeves and turn-back cuffs. To-morrow, instead of $10.00, special at..... 5.95

Trimmed Hats for Women, $5.

Beautiful creations are these; you'll wonder how it is possible the price is so low. Made on wire or buckram frames, prettily trimmed with silk velvet, braid, pompons or breast effects; in the newest shades of plum, gray, navy, brown, black and green; for the dressy woman with economical tendencies; at $5.98 5.00
